THANK YOU TO THOSE WHO HAVE DONATED TO OUR WEEKLY BULLETIN FUND.

Here's Why You Should Go to Mass (continue)

Instinctively, those who believe in God know that they owe Him worship. After all, we've received everything from Him. So we ought to give Him thanks and offer Him a pleasing sacrifice.

The question is, what sort of sacrifice pleases Him? How can we adequately thank the Lord for what He has given us?

Scripture is clear: There is no sacrifice worthy of the name except the one sacrifice that Jesus offered on the cross. Hebrews 10:12 says that Christ "offered for all time a single sacrifice for sins." That sacrifice cannot be repeated. The Mass is not an additional sacrifice or a repetition of Christ's sacrifice; rather, it is a re-presentation of the one sacrifice of the cross.

Because Christ was a unique Human being, the sacrifice He offered on the cross once and for all was a unique act. It was an act that took place in history and is therefore past. He is God, who is outside time and lives in the eternal present. Past and future are always present to Him. This means that the actions of Christ on Calvary and on Easter Sunday morning are eternal acts that can be made present again by the power of the Spirit.

This is what happens in the Eucharist. The power of Calvary - the sacrifice that takes away sins, heals, and transforms - becomes present and available to us. It can be applied to our need.

But that's not all. The cross is incomplete without the Resurrection. You can't understand what happened on Good Friday apart from what happened two days later on Easter Sunday. The Resurrection, too, is made present every time the Eucharist is celebrated. When we go to Mass, we are mysteriously present at the foot of the cross, watching the Savior give His life for us. And we're also standing outside the open tomb with the women who greeted the risen Jesus. "This is for you. I give my life to you," Jesus is saying at every Mass. "Receive My power."
